Election 2020 Series

“Staying Informed: Engaged Citizenship and Armchair Activism”

with Peggy Thompson, PhD, IHM Associate

Saturday, Sept. 26, 2020 • 10–11:30 a.m. • Via Zoom

In a time of information overload and opinion often overtaking news, how can we assess the materials we encounter and make sure we are not simply reinforcing our own preconceptions? How can we become effective “armchair activists”—on behalf of candidates, causes and concerns during a pandemic, when many of us find it difficult (if not impossible) to go out in public?

These and other questions will be explored and a short resource guide will be distributed. Participants will have the opportunity for break-out discussion and personal reflection and are invited to submit questions or comments (upon registration) to help focus the presentation.

Peggy Thompson, PhD, is a professor of history and political science at Syracuse University. She teaches courses on “The Modern Presidency” and “Elections and Social Media.” She has been an IHM Associate since 2005.*

This event is free, but advanced registration is required and space is limited. Contact the IHM Justice, Peace and Sustainability Office at jps@ihmsisters.org or 734-240-9691 by Friday, Sept. 18, to register.

The ZOOM link will be provided at registration.
