

*"I began without thinking of the future of the work,
leaving it to God alone to bless and make it prosper, if it were pleasing to God and useful for the good of others."*

— Louis Florent Gillet, CSsR

We commit to being and becoming Christ's liberating mission. We follow in the pathway of those who have gone before us, especially Theresa Maxis Duchemin who discerned the calling of the Spirit to begin something new. As kin of Theresa, we carry — within each of us and as a community — an innate trust in Providence and fierce love of one another and the world.

We recognize that we are setting out once again on a journey, a journey that is at once inward and outward, deeply personal and communal. It is a journey of both poetry and the roughest kind of prose. It takes us into the very depths of who we are as humans in the great expanse of an ever-unfolding, ever-revelatory universe.

Each of our stories writes the narrative of IHM,
unfolding again and again the charism,
especially in spaces longing for liberation. Together, we dare, we risk and we dream of the unfolding of the kingdom of God.

DARING.

RISKING.

DREAMING.

Deep Faith. Courageous Spirit. Action for Justice.
